Laura O'Connor brought up Smart Boards that some schools have. You can actually purchase Wii remotes that turns the white boards into touch screens. Mrs. Ike brought them up to the teachers and some are interested in doing a trial run to see how they work and if they would be worth investing in. Laura also mentions Standing desks or ball chairs for fidgety students. Can possible borrow them from Miami Valley Resource Center to try them out. Laura will look into that.

Smencils: Going to sell them in January. Will give each teacher a bucket of Smencils and have them sell them in the classroom.

Scholarship Program: Toni Tayloe-Haddix is still working on revamping the application.

Open Floor: Any ideas of anything that the PTO could bring into the school or help with. Beth Patterson has requested the PTO buy her a table for her classroom. The consensus was that the school should pay for the table. The PTO has never really bought furniture like that before.
